To use this form, you must have provided ADR services to a Georgia court program in the past year. For purposes of determining neutral registration fees, a "volunteer" is defined as a neutral who receives no compensation – no matter how little – for providing ADR services, whether within or outside a court ADR program. Further, such ADR services rendered must include only instances in which zero compensation has been received by any person, organization, or entity from parties, unless otherwise approved by the Commission [on Dispute Resolution]. Volunteer neutrals do not include court ADR program or court staff who receive any compensation, including wages, from a court, government office, or local ADR board. If you meet the above requirements, complete this form and submit to gcr@georgiacourts.gov
